Summer Camp 2023

The School of Sanskrit, Philosophy and Indic Studies (SSPIS) at Goa University organized a summer camp (an outreach programme) for children of Cacara Village, aged 5-15 years. The camp was held for 5 days (12-16 May 2023) from 9:30 AM to 5:30 PM. The camp began with a cleanliness drive by the research scholars of the School. On each day, there were two sessions (Forenoon and Afternoon). Refreshments were provided in a short break during each session.

Each day, the Forenoon sessions began with super-brain yoga followed by the children engaging in paper crafts, Warli painting, singing, Panchatantra stories and dance. The Afternoon sessions focused on physical activities like boxing, basketball, cricket and football. Ms Lakshmi, a research scholar from the discipline of History (DDKSSSBS) introduced the children to jewellery making like earrings, bracelets etc. The sessions were conducted by the research scholars and students of the MA Philosophy programme and were scheduled in a way that each activity was held a minimum of two times throughout the duration of the camp.

In between the sessions, the children were also introduced to topics such as the importance of hygiene, open defecation and its ill effects on health, keeping their surroundings clean, distinguishing good vs bad touch, etc.

On the last day, the children did a group performance of the song and dance that they had learned during the camp, wherein the Dean of SSPIS was invited as the chief guest. The children also made jewellery and painted greeting cards for their friends and family. Painting kits were distributed to the children as prizes for their dedicated participation and exceptional performance during the camp.
