About Goa University

Goa University, established by the Goa University Act of 1984 (Act No. 7 of 1984), commenced its operations on June 1, 1985. Its origins trace back to the Centre of Post-Graduate Instruction and Research (CPIR), established by the University of Bombay (now Mumbai) in June 1962 after the liberation of Goa by India in December 1961. Since its inception, Goa University has been at the forefront of providing graduate and post-graduate studies and research programs in the QS University rankings for the year 2022. Goa University secured a notable position, ranking between 61-65 among Indian Universities. Additionally, in the QS World University Rankings for QS Asia University Rankings 2022, Goa University stands among the group of 501-550 universities globally.

About Manohar Parrikar School

The Manohar Parrikar School of Law, Governance and Public Policy encompasses the disciplines of Law, Public Administration, Women's Studies, Social Work, Tribal Studies and Disability Studies. The programmes aim to develop the research capacities in students to engage academically and practically with social realities. The pedagogy includes extension activities, hands-on training, research, documentation, advocacy and legal aid while networking with organisations committed to social empowerment in the state, national and international arenas. The MA in Public Administration programme seeks to empower the youth in policy-making and leadership with a focus on public policy. The LL.M. Programme provides two specialisations - Human Rights and ADR and aims to create a scholarship at the national and international levels.

About D. D. Kosambi School

The D. D. Kosambi School of Social Sciences and Behavioural Studies (DDKSSSBS) is named after Damodar Dharmamanda Kosambi. The DDKSSSBS is established in 2022 by integrating the existing Departments on the Goa University campus and the affiliated Colleges. It covers a wide range of disciplines with differing methodologies, and includes History (1965 Centre for Post-Graduate Instruction & Research at Goa - CPIR affiliated to the then University of Bombay) Political Science (1973 - CPIR), Sociology (1974 - CPIR), Geography, Psychology, Education (Education, Physical Education, Special Education) Library and Information Science, Journalism, Study of Social Exclusion and Inclusive Policy, Logic, and Minority Studies.

About Directorate of Social Welfare

The Directorate of Social Welfare is headed by the Director, who is also Ex-Officio Joint Secretary and is assisted by the Director & two Assistant Directors, a Social Welfare Officer, a Statistical Officer, besides Accounts and Administration branches respectively.

The Directorate of Social Welfare deals with the implementation of Schemes for the welfare of Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and Other Backward Classes, the Differently abled persons (Disabled), Senior Citizens, Destitutes, Prisoners and their dependents, Safal Karmacharis and Beggars.

About the Seminar

Rights for all, irrespective of age, are a fundamental tenet of humanity, with the process of aging being a natural phase within the human lifespan. India is experiencing a significant increase in its elderly population, currently holding the position of the second largest globally. The rapid pace of economic advancement, urban development, and consumerism surge has unfortunately cast a spotlight on the severe issue of elder abuse. The elderly is perceived as susceptible for a myriad of reasons including psychological, social, physical, and legal aspects. Daily, their rights are infringed upon, despite the existence of various laws, policies, and programs designed to meet their needs.

However, the efforts cannot end here; more proactive measures are essential. The societal perception of the elderly varies, and change is an expected constant. Nonetheless, it is crucial to recognise that neglect of the elderly and senior citizens is not an option. Their invaluable contributions to family and society, their rich life experiences, and their profound expertise and skills need appreciation and utilisation, with a keen focus on their preferences and comfort.

In response to this, the Manohar Parrikar School of Law, Governance and Public Policy, in collaboration with the D.D. Kosambi School of Social Sciences and Behavioural Studies and supported by the Directorate of Social Welfare, Government of Goa, is proud to convene a seminar on the Rights of Elderly Citizens: Issues and Challenges. This initiative aims to delve into the struggles faced by our older citizens and to raise societal awareness regarding the duties owed to safeguard them.

The Seminar aspires to:

- Illuminate the inherent rights of the elderly alongside their societal contributions.
- Delve into the multitude of challenges they encounter.
- Pinpoint existing frameworks that offer protection and support to the elderly.
- Educate and raise awareness within the civil sphere about elder rights.
